Supervisor-Ready Pack – Format + QC Summary

Shows format compliance polish, tone refinement, and QC summary notes before submission.

What this sample is, what service it gives, and who should take it

This sample shows how Research Edit4u reviews a near-final proposal before supervisor submission. It checks format consistency, section alignment, academic tone, citation style, and small quality issues that can reduce the strength of presentation. This service is best for students and researchers who already have a draft and want a cleaner, more polished, and more submission-ready version.

Submission-Readiness Snapshot

Item	Sample review detail
Draft stage	Near-final proposal draft
Files reviewed	Main proposal text, references, timeline, and annexure notes
Review focus	Format, structure, clarity, tone, internal consistency, and QC checks
Primary output	QC summary with correction notes before supervisor submission

QC Summary Table

Review area	Status	Reviewer note
Title clarity	Good with minor edits	Title is relevant but can be shortened slightly for sharper focus.
Problem statement	Good with edits	Clear overall, but one sentence is repetitive and should be tightened.
Objective–method alignment	Needs revision	Objective 3 is not fully reflected in the methods description.
Formatting consistency	Needs revision	Heading levels and spacing are not fully standardised.
Citation style	Needs review	In-text citations appear mixed in style and should be made consistent.
Academic tone	Good with edits	A few conversational phrases should be changed to formal academic wording.
Timeline logic	Good	Milestones are realistic and follow a workable order.

Example QC Note

Observed issue

The methodology section mentions interview-based data collection, but the objectives and sample tools indicate a quantitative survey approach.

Research Edit4u QC note

The method must match the stated objectives, population, and analysis plan. If the study is survey-based, the proposal should not include interview language unless a mixed-method design is intentionally planned.

Suggested correction

Revise the methodology section to clearly state a quantitative cross-sectional survey design, along with the target sample, tools, and planned statistical analysis.

Final Polish Checklist

- Standardise headings, font sizes, spacing, and section order.
- Check that every objective is reflected in the methods section.
- Use the same variable names throughout the proposal.
- Keep citation style and reference formatting consistent.

- Replace vague phrases with simple academic wording.
- Review transitions between background, gap, objectives, and methods.

What the full service may include

Format review • Quality control summary • Tone refinement • Objective-method alignment review • Citation and consistency check • Final pre-submission polish
